

Abstract

Ambitious level and its relation with sport future anxiety among pentathlon players

Dr. . Ramy Amro Gad

Lecturer, Department of educational, psychological and social science, Faculty of physical Education, Benha University

The research aims at identify ambitious level and its relation with sport future anxiety. Descriptive approach adopted as it suits research objectives and hypotheses. Research sample included sixty pentathlon players selected randomly from players participated in pentathlon world cup held at Pegasus Sporting Club dream land in the period from 22/8 to 28/8/2017, the sample included 30 Arab players (15 male and 15 female) and 30 Foreign players (15 male and 15 female).

After data collection and statistical analysis, the player may conclude the following:

- There is significant correlation between ambitious aspects and total score and sport future anxiety aspects and total score among pentathlon players.
- Foreign players superseded Arab players in ambition scale aspects and sports scale aspects means.
- Male players superseded female players in ambition scale aspects and sports scale aspects means.